

LIA Annual Conference

OHS's first LIA class attended the annual spring conference at the University of Utah last week! Here are some of the highlights and awards we brought home!!

Maibelyn and Diego receive our Presidency Poster!

Richard Montanez, the creator of Hot Cheetos, was our keynote! Eliana snagged some merch he threw into the crowd!

Award Recipients

Each LIA student submitted a competition piece months prior to conference. These were our winners! They competed against 100+ other schools, with more than 3,000 students!

Brian Hernandez: Honorable Mention in Writing

Akeira Moncada: Honorable Mention in Writing

Maibelyn Herrera Cid: Scholarship Essay Winner

LIA Recognizes OHS and OMS

Each LIA school is ranked on how well they were able to meet their goals that they set at the beginning of the year. OHS and OMS were ranked as Gold LIA Schools! Big shout out to our OHS President, Diego Cruz, for attending the MasterMind meetings to help earn us this ranking!

Trip Activities

In addition to our conference, LIA students got the opportunity to visit some different locations in Salt Lake City!

The LIA Presidency researched different locations to visit and decided on the Clark Planetarium. It was a super fun and hands-on museum where students learned about the planets and space!

Eddie, Ofelia, and Mercedes broadcasting from space!

Angel and Alfonso battling it out in this space simulation!

LIA Donates to the Salt Lake City Rescue Mission

When we arrived in Salt Lake City, Principal Longoria had the awesome idea to donate our leftover lunch and breakfast items to the local mission. OHS and OMS LIA proudly stepped up to the plate to help serve those in need. Being able to perform this act of service during our conference trip was such a special experience and moment for our students and teachers.
